

But Considered for Air ROTC Unit

Plans for the establishment of a reserve officer's training program at Brigham Young University seemed to be shaping up this week following an announcement from Washington, D. C.

Rep. Walter K. Granger (D, Utah) said following a conference late Thursday with Maj. Gen. William F. McKee, assistant vice chief of staff for the air force, that he had been assured BYU would be one of the schools which would be inspected for the establishment of an air ROTC unit.

Mr. Granger said the general told him he saw no reason why BYU could not be approved for the ROTC program.

Latter Pres-elect Ernest L. Wilkinson of BYU met with air force officials to check the university's application to make sure it was in proper order.

Outlook Bright

The outlook is "exceedingly bright" for Brigham Young University to get a reserve officers' training corps unit, Rep. Reva Beck Bosone (D, Utah) said.

She based her optimism on a conference with Maj. Gen. Earl S. Hoag of the army's office for reserve forces. The general told her, she said, that the application would be given every consideration. She also arranged for Ernest L. Wilkinson, new BYU president, to meet with Gen. Hoag.

Mrs. Bosone said she thought there was a possibility of BYU getting either a transportation security, chemical or signal unit.

Thirteen Co-eds Enter Snow Queen Contest; Guest Stars Announced

The appearance of two noted performers in winter sports will highlight a week-end of activity in observance of the annual AMS-sponsored Snow Carnival.

Jack Reddish, noted Olympic skier, and Carol Audre Orbon, a Chicago figure skater, will appear in demonstration events Friday night and Saturday.

Competing for the title of Snow Queen are 13 BYU coed winter sports enthusiasts. A panel of judges will select the top three contenders, from which the Queen will be selected.

Contestants for the title are Lenore Vandenburg, Denver, Colo.; Shirley Lou Turner, Santa Ana, Calif.; Phyllis Christensen, Richmond, Wanda Wood, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho; Beverly Anderson, Canada, Calif.; Barbara Chadwick, Salt Lake City; Camille Cameron, St. Anthony, Ida.; Marilyn Pulsipher, Denver, Colo.; Andrea Johnson, Paeuquilly, Jan. Beach, Westfield, N. J.; Naomi Bangarter, Salt Lake City; and Janore Ream, Berkeley, Calif.

A loving cup will be awarded to the winner of the snow sculpture contest, with plaques going to second and third place entries, unless there is no snow, in which case the contest will be cancelled. The sculpting is to be done in the lot on the corner of 10th and Main streets, and the winners will be selected by a crew of Art department student members and students. All sculpturing must be completed by 10:00 a.m., when entries will be judged.

Judges include J. Roman Anson, Shirley Lou Turner, B. P. Larson, Dick Myers and Lavon Boyenger. Judging will be on the basis of quantity and quality of work. Committee members have placed only two restrictions on the sculpting: no work to be done on the designated site, and no snow can be taken from other areas.

Slating Friday Night
Carol Orbon, 14-year-old skating star, will appear Friday night when she will be a figure skater demonstration.

A skater since the age of four, when she skidded on rugs between the kitchen and living room, she is a winner of trophies, medals and cash prizes from the Chicago Times Athletic Association and other competitions. She has appeared in St. Paul, Chicago, and Colorado Springs.

As adept in swimming, riding and dancing as she is on the runners, Miss Orbon has been called "One of the outstanding skaters in the country for her age."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer R. Orbon, formerly of Chicago, now living in Provo, where she attends the Dixon grade school.

Saturday morning calls for riding at Timp Haven, when Jack Reddish, a former Olympic ski team member, will make a guest appearance. The finale of the week-end will be a dance Saturday night.

Jack Reddish, who will visit the campus for the annual event, is considered one of the top skiers in the United States. He is a member of the 1948 Olympic ski team, and has won more honors for the U. S. than any other skier.

UNIVERSE Contest Begins Today! Prizes Await Students

The UNIVERSE Ad Error contest begins with this issue! Promoted and planned by Eldon Cox, business manager, the contest is being supported by the Provo Chamber of Commerce and the advertisers who regularly use these columns.

Prizes are to be given away absolutely free to readers who locate all the typographical errors in the advertisements. After indicating them all, the student reports to the store having his activity card number, where one student will win.

Six prizes will be given in today's issue, so read the ads, find the mistakes, and only the contest—it's a cinch!

See page three for further details.

Mrs. Allie Webb Clark, Provo, was approved by the university's board of trustees, according to Dr. Christen Jensen, BYU acting president.

The new loan fund has been established especially to aid students in the spring quarter of each year when bank accounts may be depleted. Senior standing will also be an aid in getting loans approved, Dr. Jensen said.

According to Dr. Wesley P. Lloyd, who has made numerous contacts with Dr. Webb in Chicago in connection with the BYU fieldhouse drive, Dr. Webb is a BYU student of 1907-1911 who wished to make the gift to the school "in appreciation of the ways in which she had assisted him while he was a student, and for the quality of the teaching he had received here."

Dr. Webb, a retired dentist, is a member of the Chicago area BYU fieldhouse committee and was the first non-contributor to the fieldhouse fund, Dr. Lloyd said.

Mrs. Allie Webb Clark, sister of Dr. Clark, is a Provo resident. She is the widow of Dr. Garn Clark.

His program tomorrow night will consist of numbers by Beethoven, Mozart, Schumann, and Chopin. New York Times has praised him particularly highly for his excellent interpretation of Chopin. Time magazine acclaims him one of the world's great pianists.

During the year he played many concerts for servicemen in the Far East, the Middle East, as well as France, England, and Germany.

Solomon, a 19-year-old, chooses to be known by only the one name.

Opera Practices In Full Swing

Intensive rehearsals for Mozart's opera, "The Marriage of Figaro," are underway at BYU, according to Clawson Y. Cannon, Jr., instructor in music and opera production manager.

Long hours of practice will be spent in preparing for its presentation.

"This opera," stated Mr. Cannon, "is filled with gay aria and delightful comedy, and from all appearances, promises to be one of the Y's best operatic productions."

Practically all of the roles are principal ones. Thus, approximately 20 students will have the opportunity of singing major parts. The double cast system will be used.

Newton B. Weight, assistant professor of music, is director of the opera workshop, and Jon Beck Shanks, Shillington, Pa., is stage director. The university symphony orchestra will play the accompaniment under the baton of Lawrence W. Sardon, associate professor of music.

Geologist Uncearths Man Evidence Near Death Valley

LOS ANGELES (INS)—The discovery of "Man in Death Valley" that man lived in California at least 15,000 to 20,000 years ago was announced recently by a University of Southern California scientist and his wife. Dr. Thomas Clements, head of the Geology department, said they found rocks on the shore of what once was an ice age lake in the valley that definitely showed they had been used as ancient tools.

The find included "hammer" stones and scores of scrapers and blades, which he said are the first evidence that primitive nomadic tribes lived there in the Pleistocene Ice Age some 15,000 to 20,000 years ago.

Dr. Clements theorized the prehistoric people came to Death Valley from the east.

He said: "They lived on the shore of ancient Lake Manly, which undoubtedly provided them with plenty of fish. How they caught the fish is unknown."

The lake once was 90 miles long, between 10 and 15 miles wide and more than 600 feet deep.

He added: "The climate was wet and cold and there was much more vegetation than which could have sheltered birds and game as well as provided berries and nuts."

Government Files Moved in Library

Room 190 in the Library building is beginning to acquire that "lived-in look" as it receives a fair share of the government publications which have been over-running the stacks on the third floor for the past several years.

Important items included in the volumes changing their place of abode are census reports from 1860 to the present; House and Senate documents and hearings; Congressional records; State Department publications; and the public health reports.

Students wishing to use these publications should go to the reference room for help in securing them.

The library has a very large and valuable collection of government publications which will be made more accessible for use in the new room which is near the reference room and also Mr. Butt's office where more current government materials are received and filed.

Winter Weather
Won't Wet
Wedding Wishers

by Betty Ann Green

Winter weather hasn't dampened romantic ardor as couples after couples trod the middle aisle during the past few weeks. No one Jones and Fred Schow recently married. Other new Mr. and Mrs. discs include Roland Hamilton and LaDonna Lee, and Marj Robertson and Marilyn Goodrich, who were married yesterday.

Paula Tanner became the bride of Robert L. Graham and JoAnne Bailey exchanged vows with Edmore W. Bush.

Early February weddings are planned by Rena Chetney and Marvin Nelson and Flora Frank and Larry Patterson. Edna Jackman and LaDonna Tolson will also be married next month. Western Japs and Norma Beaumont plan a March ceremony.

Delta Phi Harvey Farnsworth pinned State Johnson last week. Mrs. diamonds abound with engagements being announced by Elaine Hansen and Bud Trappner, John Halse and Richard Edwards, Maude Foster and Charlie Strupp, and Doug Gray and Grace Ashland. A returned missionary John Taylor joined the parade as he hung his bit on Marilyn Edwards.

Engagees Find Things Tough
As "I Want You" Threatens

by Pat Thomas

"Congratulations! I'm sure happy for both of you. Why, I've never seen such a beautiful diamond. Tell me, what are your future plans? How soon will it be where will you live—are you going to finish school?"

How many engaged couples on campus have experienced similar excited outbursts from friends or other interested couples? How many happy twosomes can give an itemized account of what their lives will be like in one year or two?

Let us, for example, take the complex problem of Horstene and Algeon, who recently became engaged and yearn for marriage. Algeon, a returned missionary, wants to finish school, but will be unable to support a wife at the same time. However, even school is a dream, because between now and September is a lone finger beckoning to Algeon. It will draw him into the duties of that great marching institution known as "The Army," the thing which takes initiative from men and turns them into machines. If this happens, what then? Should they marry and risk the chance that Algeon might have to go overseas, thus leaving Horstene alone, with perhaps children to provide and care for?

This is just one of the complex situations in which immature engagees find themselves today. Nowadays a couple would be satisfied with no money, no school, even no job to begin married life if they could just be sure of being able to make plans to have a goal to work toward a

Fraternity Rushes
Given More Choice

MEMPHISVILLE, Ore. (AP)—For the first time in the history of Greek organizations on the campus at Lindale College, rush week this year was conducted under a procedure which gave freshmen their own choice of invitations. The new experimental rushing plan allowed the freshmen to choose their own choice of invitations or not to accept the proposed rush to be rushed and at the same time gave them their choice of groups in which they were most interested.

Greek organizations had the final preference, following regular rush parties. It is believed that the new plan serves as more of an impartial method of selection.

goal that isn't hidden behind dark clouds of war, uncertainty, and deception. But I'm sure that somewhere in that outer darkness there is a light to guide these confused pairs of humanity.

Some suggestions as to the solution of our problem, which have been offered by the intelligentsia of our campus are: 1. Postpone marriage for ten or fifteen years until the world situation straightens out. 2. Main plan a platonic friendship indefinitely. 3. Let matters look worse, run yourself, and your sweetie out to the middle of Utah lake and pull the plug!

PHOTOGRAPHY

Since the Church is emphasizing the memory books so extensively, we thought it would be appropriate to let you know that we do a special job on this type of copy work. Our quality is unusually high for copy work, and you will find our prices reasonable. In fact all our copy work is coming out excellently well—any old photograph you have can be copied, you know—and the service is fast too, usually from one day to the next.

It is really going to make us very sad if the present threat of scarcity of flash bulbs continues. There have been complaints of one hundred persons in and around Provo who have tried my suggestion of using a simple $1.55 hand flasher to modernize any old camera you have in the house, from the box camera to the old postcard-size model. You can't believe how wonderfully this works unless you see the pictures in moles.

I have the promise of thirty cases of No. 25 Sylvana flash bulbs—the kind you use in most flash outfits—and maybe we can run the season out on this shipment, so don't despair. In fact these bulbs should be in by the time this article appears in the Tuesday paper.

Chopin Numbers Highlight Pianist's Return Concert

by Ardean Watts
UNIVERSITY MUSIC CRITIC

All the warmth, charm, and poetry of Chopin was revealed in the playing of Jan Cherniavsky before civic and studentbody audiences last week. The Polish pianist's two Provo appearances were his first since illness forced him to discontinue concertizing last June in Cape Town, South Africa.

Although aging in years, Mr. Cherniavsky left none of the youthful, romantic, and dynamic qualities of the music of the Polish master, Chopin, missing. The keyboard became a living thing as the artist breathed his sensitive interpretations into it.

Although the small Chopin works were the highlights of both programs, the concert-goers responded well to other offerings by Scarlatti, Bach, Mozart, and Beethoven. Cherniavsky pointed out that he had originated a practice of playing Scarlatti an octave higher than written in order to achieve a harpsichord effect. It is felt by this writer that despite the fact that the heavier program numbers left much to be desired, concert-goers were well compensated by the artist's unusually sensitive readings.

A very friendly and talkative character, Mrs. Cherniavsky voiced a genuine like for the enthusiastic and sympathetic Provo audience, who have had many opportunities to listen to this veteran performer. Not to be forgotten was the added touch of being able to actually see the artist, or haven't you noticed the new lights in the tabernacle?

Biology Fraternity Sets Activity Slate

Phi chapter of Beta Beta Beta, national honorary biological fraternity, has begun a new season of activity.

New officers elected at the end of autumn quarter are Wayne Welch, vice-president; Paul Steele, secretary-treasurer; and Lenard Moore, historian.

Membership in the fraternity is composed of students with a strong interest in biology and because of its honorary nature, regular membership is restricted to upper division students with high scholastic ratings. However, provisional membership is extended to interested students not fulfilling all requirements for regular membership.

Meetings of the organization take place at 7:00 p.m., every other Wednesday, starting Wednesday, Jan. 31. Activities consist of guest lectures, movies and socials. Dr. Eldon Beck will be the speaker at next Wednesday's meeting at 7:00 p.m. in the Brimhall building.

A capella Choir Schedules Spanish Fork Appearance

BYU a cappella choir, under the direction of Newell Weight, now in its second year of existence, has made outstanding progress and a real name for itself on the campus.

The 75-voice choir will present its first concert of the winter quarter on Tuesday, Jan. 30, in Spanish Fork. The choir will entertain the combined wards in the Spanish Fork stake house at 7:30 p.m. It will be an interesting and varied program comprised of full choir numbers and small ensemble groups.

Dean Law Reports Plans to Raise Teaching Quality

Provisions are being made to raise the teaching standard in Utah as well as other western states, according to Dr. Reuben D. Law, dean of the College of Education, who was back at work last week after regional conference on Teaching Education and Professional Standards at Mesa, Ariz.

A requirement of five years of schooling for teachers instead of the present four-year plan is being considered, although no definite date has yet been set for its initiation into the present teacher education system.

The plan is, Dean Law said, to give teachers a provisional certificate which cannot be renewed, until they have completed four years of schooling. This certificate will be good for two or three years, then a teacher will have to attend school another year to receive a professional certificate.

Vet Administrator

Mr. Reiser, veterans administration training officer in Salt Lake City, has been assigned to the Provo area to replace Arvid Larsen. He will be in room 28 North building every Thursday. All veterans training under Public Law 16 may call on him for advice.

Cats Win 91-58, 60-44 Over Walkathon Boys

by Dan Clay

The Brigham Young Cougars stepped and scored fast and often last weekend as they completely humbled the Denver Pioneers 91-58 and 60-44 in the Utah football game.

Roland Mason, Joe Hickey, and Mel Hutchins were outstanding for the Y both nights. Munroe ripped the coles for 46 points in the two-game set, Joe had 30, and Hickey grabbed 33.

More important than his point production was Mel's great work off the backboards. He grabbed up more than his share of rebounds and held the highly trained Duke Toft to one field goal in both games.

Munroe continues to play tremendous ball for the Cougars. He side his great scoring Munroe's ball handling is superb. When a good shot is not to be had he hands off in unobtrusively great style.

One of the prime factors for the BYU play has been the great play of Joe Hickey. When Joe and Munroe are teamed up in a fast break it is a thing of beauty to watch. One of Joe's main assets is his amazing ability to find off-the offensive backboards. He seems to know exactly where to be. Joe hit for 15 points both nights.

Thus BYU is making more than yesterday's good news to turn this would be conference race into a one team slaughter house. The remainder of the schedule being forces the Cougars who have played 7 of their 9 games against, allegedly, the top teams in the conference.

The Cougars were as fast as a ruptured paintball machine. During day as they started right in at the opening whack. With the score at one after the Cougars scored seven points in a row and from there on it was all BYU.

Munroe Gets Hot

With the score 29-13, Roland Munroe hit his first field goal of the night and then developed a case of very hot fingers.

Hickey countered with a set shot and Munroe exploded for six points and a 20-13 lead. For the last 30 points of the BYU first half Munroe accounted for 17 and a total of 20 for the first stanza.

Denver was sevier in the ball game as the Cats hit with deadly regularity. The men of Wynn went on two streaks of seven and one of six points and held a commanding 50-34 halftime lead.

In the second half the Cats kept on pouring it on. The scoring was well distributed as no one man managed more than two field goals.

Scoring Record Set

Had the first string remained in the game the score probably would have topped the century mark. As it was, a new conference scoring record was made, 91 by a team, this breaking the old 83 point mark.

Denver coach Hoyt Brown's original purpose was to win but as the dying minutes of the game drew near his sole purpose in seemed to be to not have 90 points scored against his club.

With the score 39-58, Brown had his boys make a fool and attempt to freeze the ball for the last couple of minutes. This failed as Jimmy Thra shot the ball, was fouled while shooting, and ended in on the two shots, making the final score 91-33.

Roland Mason was top man among the scorers as he garnered 26 points. Joe Hickey notched 15 and Harold Christensen, "butting four for six from the floor, had 13. Mel Hutchins tumbled in with 11 points.

Control Try Fails

Saturday night, apparently at wits end, Coach Brownson concocted a defense to stop BYU. He reasoned that if BYU didn't get the ball they couldn't score, so he had his boys freeze the ball from the out set.

How he planned for his team to score points is still a matter of conjecture. Ten minutes after the game officially began the score was 40 in favor of BYU on the strength of four leads made.

After a few minutes of this the Cougar fans set up a war that could be heard all the way from Ogden to Koshburners. The rhythmic applause and rhythmic wave of the Pioneers had many court-side yodlers.

With ten minutes gone, Joe Hickey stole the ball and scored on a layup, the first field goal of the game. With 8:00 left in the half, Freddy Howell felt a foul shot and the Pioneer's led into the scoring column.

During the last few minutes of the half the action picked up a little. The Cougars got a chance to shoot and Denver was again washed up. Mel Hutchins and his "railer" gets gave the Cougars and the fans a lift during the reverse march.

Triple Lead

The half ended and that in itself was amazing. Brigham Young led 29-7 at intermission.

The second half was an entirely different game. The scoring was fast and furious and the Cougars won that half also, 60-37. Totaled together the final score was 91-33.

Hickey and Munroe led the second half attack with 21 points between them, 12 for Joe and 15 for Munroe.

As was the case Thursday night, the Pioneer were at the mercy of the Cougar first string and trailed by 30 points when they left the game.

Scoring bonanzas for the night went again to Roland Munroe who scored 20 points. Joe Hickey again ran up 15 and Mel Hutchins accounted for 11.

The Cougars during the past two weeks have played sensation al ball in packing up two wins each against Wyoming and Denver. Their ability to score and the much improved play of Joe Hickey have been a constant source of amusement to fans and sportswriters.

Ag Club Plans Pig Project

Small fry farmers and not high producing Holsteins stole the show at the BYU dairy farm last week.

The Ag club moved to stimulate group interest and increase their finances by purchasing 20 head of young feeders which should provide some busy eating time and milk.

Pens and sheds for the project have been constructed by members of the club. The pens are built on a concrete slab twenty by fifty feet, making a smooth hard floor which can be easily cleaned.

Frosh Hoopsters Wallop Hill Field Over Weekend

The BYU Freshman team walloped the Hill Field team last weekend in the Utah Fieldhouse in connection with the BYU-DuVer series. The victories brought the Kittens' winning streak to 10 straight.

Friday's game found the visiting quintet completely snowed under by the fine shooting and fast floor play of the Provo lads. The result was a 63-27 victory for the Y, with Jerry Minson taking top scoring honors with 13 counts.

In the final tilt of the two-night stand, the Frosh took an early lead and, at times, led by a 10 point margin. Sparked by the long shots of D. Cunningham and the effective jump shooting of J. Mitchell, the Hill Field squad tied the score at 23-23 when the half ended.

During the first half and after playing and rebounding very well, Jerry Minson left the game with a wrenched ankle and did not return to the ball game.

The second half was very close, but contested and although the Hill Field team led the game on only one occasion, the scores were never more than eight points apart. Tom Karren, high scorer for the young Cougars, accounted for 15 points and an excellent floor game, while Crump, Iverson and Gleave also showed well. The final score was 54-46.

Cunningham and Mitchell led the scoring for the final game with 19 and 16 points, respectively. Larry Lifshitz, No. 26, also a member of the Hill Field quint, provided entertainment through out the contest.

"CAPRICIOUS CAROUSEL"—Making plans for their invitational Friday are Andrea Johnson, Connie Rushlow, Geniel Thornton and Marilyn Gaddes, Fideles officers.

Wisteria and Silver

Fideles Organized 1928; Boast Friendship Motto

Amici Fideles Ann means Faithful Friends Forever. Fideles members live up to this lofty standard by promoting unity and friendship not only during college days, but throughout their lives. In addition to friendship they strive to promote high ideals, develop leadership, further scholastic ability and the standards which have been set up by BYU.

Fideles, the third women's social unit on campus, was organized in 1928, with 20 charter members. The original officers were Norma Christensen, president; Christine Tomblay, vice-president; Norrell Startup, secretary; and Leonore Rasmussen, treasurer. The ideals and standards instituted by these girls in the first constitution still guide the members.

A traditional Christmas party, an occasional dance, a weekend carter party in the spring as well as exchange parties are some of the activities participated in by members.

"Capricious Carousel" is the theme of their invitational to be held Friday, Feb. 2, at the Grand View school. Committee members for the events are Marilyn Hoopes, general chairman; deaconsess, Ruth Grossberg; programs and invitations, Pat Roberts; refreshments, Mary Bernauer; refreshments, Phyllis Christiansen.

Magic Lent in Gold

Unit colors are wisteria and silver. The pin has a magic leaf set off in gold with twelve small pearls and three synthetic stones at the corner—an old English F had been set on a black background to bring out its beauty.

Fideles officers this year are Connie Rushlow, Las Vegas, Nev.,

Drama Thrills Audiences

by Deanne Merrill

The first play of the quarter, "The Man," staged and directed by Morris M. Clinger, was enthusiastically received by the comparatively small opening night audience.

The first scene of this psychological drama started very slowly but by the time the curtain fell on the first act, the audience was spellbound. Amore after gripping scene was portrayed the spectators gasped at the horrible life of the "Man" was unfolded.

Burnett Ferguson as Howard Wilton, "The Man," played his greatest role since "Command Decision." He gave a fine and sensitive portrayal of a bewildered and frightened boy.

Arta Balduf in the role of Mrs. Gilfe was quite convincing. An experienced actress, Mrs. Balduf added a touch of naturalness through the two acts of tension strung drama.
